

MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

March 2009

Welcome to Milwaukee! On behalf of all of us here at Marquette University, I extend warm greetings to you and to all those attending the Engineers Without Borders national conference. While our temperatures may not be very warm this time of year, I think you will find warm hearts and hospitality from the people of Milwaukee during your visit. Milwaukee is a great city and offers a wide variety of entertainment and attractions, and I hope that you will enjoy your stay.

We at Marquette are proud of Marquette's chapter of Engineers Without Borders. As a Catholic, Jesuit university dedicated to leadership expressed in service to others, the mission of Engineers Without Borders is aligned with Marquette's own mission. Let me take this opportunity to commend your hard work and dedication to improving the lives of so many people through your projects. We are honored and excited to have you here in our community.

Enjoy your visit to Milwaukee. Best wishes for a successful conference. God bless.

Sincerely,
